I. Questions 1 to 5 are based on the following text.

Lady Gaga is my idol

My idol is Stefani Joanne Angelina Germanotta, better known by her stage name 'Lady Gaga'. She was born on March 28th 1986. She is an American pop singer and a songwriter. She began performing in the rock music scene of New York University's Tisch School of the Arts. She soon signed with Streamline Records, an imprint of Interscope Records. During her early time at Interscope, she worked as a songwriter for fellow label artists and captured the attention of Akon, who recognized her vocal abilities, and signed her to his own label, Kon Live Distributions.

Gaga came to prominence following the release of her debut studio album 'The Fame' (2008), which was a commercial success and achieved international popularity with the singles "Just Dance" and "Poker Face". The album reached number one on the record charts of six countries, accomplished positions within the top-ten worldwide, and topped the Billboard Dance/Electronic Albums chart while simultaneously peaking at number two on the Billboard 200 chart in the United States. Achieving a similar worldwide success, the follow-up EP, the "Fame Monster" (2009), produced a further two global chart-topping singles "Bad Romance" and "Telephone" and allowed her to embark on a second global headlining concert tour.

II. Questions 6 to 10 are based on the following text.

In the general sense, a direct tax is one paid directly to the government by the persons on whom it is imposed. Examples include some income taxes, corporate taxes and transfer taxes such as estate (inheritance) tax and gift tax. In this sense, a direct tax is different from an indirect tax or 'collected tax such as Value Added Tax (VAT). A collected tax is one which is collected by intermediaries who turn over the proceeds to the government and file the related return. Some commentators have argued that a direct tax is one that cannot be shifted by the tax payer to someone else, whereas an indirect tax can be. In the United States, a "direct tax" has a different meaning for the purpose of constitutional law. Traditionally, a direct tax in the constitutional sense means a tax on property by reasons of its ownership.

An indirect tax such as Value Added Tax (VAT), sales tax and Goods on Services Tax is a tax collected by an intermediary such as a retail store from the person who bears the ultimate economic burden of the tax (such as the customer). The intermediary later files a tax return and forwards the tax proceeds to government with the return. An indirect tax may increase the price of a good so that consumers are actually paying the tax by paying more for the products. Examples would be fuel, liquor, and cigarette taxes. An excise duty on motor cars is paid in the first instance by the manufacturer of the cars; ultimately the manufacturer transfers the burden of this duty to the buyer of the car in form of a higher price.
